

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

VOL. 4—NO. 65.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1855

PRICE ONE CENT.

TEST YOUR BAKING POWDER TO-DAY!

Broad Advertising is made to prove CONTAIN AMMONIA.

THE TEST:

Place a can top down on a hot stove until heated, then pour a few drops of water over it. A flame will not be required to detect the presence of ammonia.

DOES NOT CONTAIN AMMONIA.

It has never been questioned.

In a million homes for a quarter of a century it has stood the test.

THE TEST OF THE OVEN.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.,

Makers of

Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts,

The strongest, most delicate and subtle flavor known,

Dr. Price's Lupulin Yeast Gums

For Light, Healthy Bread. The Best Dry Hop

Yeast in the World.

FOR SALE BY GROCERS.

CHICAGO.

ST. LOUIS.

Brown's IRON BITTERS

PHARMACISTS AND DRUGGISTS.

RECOMMENDED IT.

Quality Purity Not Durability.

On Every Bottle.

BITTERS

—THE

BEST Tonic.

This medicine, combining from pure vegetable tonics, quickly and completely reduces Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, and Neuralgia.

It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and for all sedentary lives.

It does not injure the teeth, cause headache or or pain.

It purifies and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, re-stroys the muscles and nerves.

It is Internally a Stimulus, Latissime, Lack of Energy, & it has no equal.

* * * The genuine has above trade mark and protected by U. S. PATENT OFFICE, BOSTON, &c.

A. D. MITCHELL,

—Manufacturer of—

PURE HOME-MADE CONFECTIONERY.

Fresh every day. All kinds of Cream Candi-ied made to order and sent in one and two pound boxes. Fruits of all kinds.

Mrs. J. B. PADDOCK,

Fashionable

Dress Maker!

Dresses cut and made in the latest styles at reasonable prices. Second street, next door to Bank of Maysville.

JACOB LINE.

BAKER AND CONFECTIONER.

ICE CREAM a specialty. Fresh bread and cakes. Parties and weddings furnished on short notice.

55 Second st., maysville MAYVILLE, KY.

FRANK E. MAUKE,

House, Sign and

ORNAMENTAL PAINTER.

Shop a few doors above Yancey & Alexander,
at delivery stable, second street.

LAW & WORKSICK.

Contractors.

ARCHITECTS AND BUILDERS.

Plans and specifications furnished on reasonable terms and all work satisfactorily and promptly done. Office on Third street, between Wall and Sutton.

BIERHOWER & CO.,

—Manufacturers of and Dealers in—

Stoves, Mantels, Grates

Tinware, Stoneware, Woodware, etc. Tin
Roofing, Gutting, Spouting, an' Metal Work done to order. Metal Street, between Wall and Sutton, Maysville, Ky.

SIMMONS'

Medicated Well-Water.

A Specific for DYSPEPSIA and

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS.

H An iron used with much gratifying success by W. Clark, professor of Chemistry at the University of Cincinnati says this water "delights the palate, and is a valuable remedy for the Springs of Virginia," the medicinal virtues of which he quotes to try his fate.

Those who desire to try this specific are referred to Captain C. W. Boyd, Leavenworth, Captain C. M. Smith, Cincinnati, Ohio;
John J. Hayes, Indianapolis, Ind.; Prof. John
W. Clark, Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John W. Clark, professor of Chemistry at the University of Cincinnati, etc.

London, Feb. 6.—The capture of Khar-

KHARTOUM FALLS

And the Mahdi's Forces Take Full Possession of the City.

GORDON A PRISONER.

FATAL DISASTER TO THE BRITISH ARMY IN THE DESERT.

GLADSTONE MAY RESIGN.

Col. Wilson Compelled to Retreat—
Steamers Wrecked—Delegations on a Nile Island—Fears for Stewart—
London Wild With Excitement.

MAJ.-GEN. G. GORDON.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—General Wolseley telegraphs that Kharroum has fallen. He says that when Col. Wilson, who went from Metemeh to Kharroum, reached the latter place he found it in the hands of the rebels.
He returned to Metemeh under a heavy fire from both banks of the river.

The Daily Telegraph, an official authority, says that the rebels secured the fall of Kharroum.
It says the rebels secured the city by treachery,
and that General Gordon was captured.

The morning papers issue extra numbers in which they continue to affirm the fall of Kharroum, but the war office declined for some time to state the character of the dispatches received from General Wolseley.

The city is overwhelmed with sorrow on account of the news from Kharroum. The good news of a week ago has been more than counterbalanced by the tidings, and to-day is felt as one of the darkest in England's recent history.

The war office was at last compelled to issue
the following:

Telegrams from General Wolseley announce that the fall of Kharroum took place on January 30. He says Col. Wilson arrived at Kharroum January 28. He was greatly surprised to find that the enemy were in possession of that fort.

He immediately started on his return down the river, and proceeded under heavy fire from the rebels.

When some miles below the Shubakha castle
Colonel Wilson's steamer were wrecked, and he and his whole party managed to make their way to safety, where they are now.

A steamer has gone to bring them back to the British camp, near Metemeh. General Wolseley has arrived at Metemeh, and was immediately sent to Kharroum, to which he had been despatched with a small force upon the steamer found at Metemeh upon its capture. He reported that Khar-roum had been captured by the enemy and was held by them in great force.

He failed to reach the last vestige of intelligence from the distant Egyptian desert. Through Fleet street and the Strand it is impossible to make one's way, so crowded are these thoroughfares with throngs of curious and excited citizens. At one people take a gloomy view of the position of the British troops in the Sudan?

The jubilant gladness which characterized England in regard to Egypt, even after the news of the fall of Kharroum, in the successful war in the neighborhood of Metemeh was received, has given way to universal depression, and expressions of dismay and foreboding
come from almost everybody.

It is too early to form a correct review of the news on this political situation.

The war office is besieged with an army of officers tendering their services for active duty in the Sudan. Numerous telegrams are being received from officers throughout the country, asking for assignments to rescue the expedition should the government decide to take such action.

DISASTER TO WOLSELEY

Fear by Military Men Unless He Can Speedily Reinforce.

SIR GARNET WOLSELEY.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The capture of Khar-

roum has created grave fears for the British forces in the Sudan. A number of military officers of repute even express the opinion that unless reinforcements are hurried forward to Korti, the fall of Kharroum may lead to disaster to the forces under Lord Wolseley and General

Egyptian.

A cabinet council has been summoned to meet at once. Mr. Gladstone is fearfully disturbed by the news, and some people believe he will resign if reinforcements are not dispatched from General Wolseley. All the British wounded have been brought back to Gukkuk Wells.

The New York Journal reports that the Mahdi has been driven from the vicinity of Kharroum, and has introduced a number of his men into the city.
These enemies mingled freely with the native troops under General Gordon and General Stewart, and the former was eagerly welcomed by the latter.

Stewart's little band will ever remember the desert. Not since the fall of the French colonies by the British fleet during the Turco-Bengal war has there been such excitement in the city. On every street corner groups of excited people discuss the news, speculating as to what will become of this nation.

The action of the ministry in the present emergency is eagerly awaited. Many predict that it will result in the fall of Gladstone's government.

EXPENSE PYROTECHNICS.

Gotham Illuminated by a Million Stars

Blaze.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—A fire broke out shortly after midnight Wednesday in the five-story building from 108 to 114 Wooster street, between Broadway and Hudson. M. Ausbaum, steam goods; J. Hirsch, fringes, and Scott & Brown, fancy goods. The fire was not got under control until nearly half the block had been destroyed. The firemen were at valiant work, but the damage was great. The fire started in the liquor store of Steinhardt Bros. and spread quickly among the inflammable stock. The police found it necessary to drive a number of German students from the school across the river, as the new residence of the German students was situated on the roof of the building.

Military authorities are of the opinion that General Gordon sent the greater part of his troops to Kharroum to support General Stewart and to defend the town and the garrison in the town and the island of Metemeh.

The war office has issued a general order not to go beyond the 10th parallel north.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Gladstone's Resignation and the Fall of His Ministry Predicted.

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 6.—Mr. Proctor was arrested on the charge of murdering his husband, though he may have returned to his old home again. The police charged that he had a clear case.

SALEM'S MURDER MYSTERY.

The Wife of George K. Proctor Arrested for Killing Her Husband.

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Proctor was arrested on the charge of murdering her husband, though he may have returned to his old home again. The police charged that she had a clear case.

George K. Proctor was found unconscious in his bedchamber here on the morning of the 27th instant. His wife came to his assistance and carried him up stairs. He remained insensible until the 29th instant, when he died.

Medical Examiner Carlton made an examination and gave it as his opinion that Proctor died of a violent blow to the head.

Family members expressed the same opinion.
Those who prepared the body for burial noticed a slight hemorrhage occurring to the region of the bullet hole.

It was ascertained that a small bullet had entered the brain and passed through the head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

It was believed that the bullet had passed
through the brain and had passed through the
head.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1885.

BOSHER & McCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
To Whom Address ALL COMMUNICATIONS

Those who Enjoyment seek
Will bear in mind
The show next week.

Pirates of Penzance.

A LECTURE association has been organized at Ripley.

The big steer will arrive here from Ripley next Saturday.

The steamer Andy Baum passed up this morning and the Big Sandy down.

Mr. NOAH SHIPLEY dropped dead at Bentonville, Brown County, Ohio, a few days ago.

If you find business dull try a little judicious advertising. You will be benefited by doing so.

SOME of the farmers of Brown County think the wheat has been much injured by the recent freeze.

The management of the Thespian entertainments have decided to postpone their next performance until immediately after Easter.

The Maysville Musical Club, which will appear at Carlisle on the 12th inst., in the Pirates of Penzance, numbers forty performers.

The Amy Gordon Opera Company, on the occasion of the opening of the opera house, on the 10th instant, will present "Finatina."

Mr. D. S. McILHANNEY, who is connected with the Queen City Roller Rink, is in the city for the purpose of establishing a rink here. If he does so it will be a permanent institution.

The soldier's monument will be unveiled at Ripley, with appropriate ceremonies, on the 30th day of May. General Charles H. Grevor, of Athens, O., will deliver the oration, and other distinguished men of the State will be present.

An anti-treating bill which has been introduced in the Legislature of Pennsylvania, subjects any person who treats or accepts a treat or any intoxicating drink to a fine of $10 or imprisonment in the county jail for ten days or both, and in addition he must pay $15 to the attorney prosecuting the case. The bill is said to have many friends who will work for its passage.

This statement made in a petition circulated in behalf of William Neal, the condemned Ashland murderer, that the testimony of Mr. James Heffin had been impeached at Cynthiaburg, in the case of Auxier against Heffin, is flatly contradicted by Hon. K. P. Pritchard, attorney for Auxier, and by M. F. Hampton, Clerk of the Boyd Circuit Court. We have seen letters from the gentlemen named to that effect.

Ancient Bonau Marriage Custom. They anointed the house with certain unctuous perfume to keep out infection. They disenchanted it with various charms to keep the witches from the bride. Now we give the bride a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitter, telling her to take that and be happy and hearty. Keep out such witches as neuralgia, delirium, dyspepsia and rheumatism, and help make home delightful.

THE Amy Gordon Comic Opera Company which has just closed a successful season of five months at Chicago, will appear at the new Washington Opera House on Tuesday evening the 10th inst., every night during the week and at a matinee on Saturday afternoon. The troupe is composed of thirty artists and is highly commended by the press wherever it has appeared. Finatina will be presented on Tuesday evening.

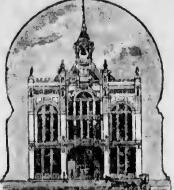

PERSONALS.

Miss Annie Lewis, of Lexington, is visiting Mrs. Henry Lewis of East Mayville.

Miss Alice K. Boyd, daughter of Capt. C. W. Boyd, of Ripley, after spending a term at the art school at Providence, Rhode Island, has gone to Boston, where she will enter the Conservatory of Music and Fine Art.

Mrs. Wm. Forman, of Shannon, was stricken with paralysis on Sunday night, January 25th. The attack involves the brain, the tongue and one entire side. She still lingers but in a very precarious condition. Dr. Pickett of this city has made two visits and has done all assisted by Dr. Browning, the local physician, that science and skill could do for the unfortunate lady. She has had the best and tenderest nursing from the neighboring ladies, but all without any favorable results. Mrs. Forman is in her seventy-second year, and has always enjoyed the best of health.

The New Opera House.

The new opera house which has just been completed and will be formally opened to the public next Tuesday evening, is a handsome public improvement, and a monument to the enterprise of the Washington Fire Company. It occupies the site of the old opera house, fronts on Second street fifty-eight feet, and extends back sixty-eight feet, where it joins the part of the former structure containing the stage, which was not removed.

The front is fifty-six feet in height, and on the sides are two stories with the entrance to the fire department rooms in the center. The theatre is reached by a stair case on each side of the entrance. This room is thirty-five feet high, is in size fifty-eight by sixty-four feet, and the outside of the walls and is divided into parquette, dress circle, balcony and gallery. The size of the stage is thirty-six by forty-seven feet, and the proscenium twenty-six feet two inches by twenty-two feet two inches. The room is handsomely and elaborately frescoed, the work having been done by Mitchell, of Chicago, one of the finest artists in the country. The stucco work, which also adds to the attractiveness, was done by a firm from the same city. The stage is provided with twelve sets of scenery besides a number of set pieces. The drop curtain, which is a marvel of artistic beauty, is best described by the following taken from the Commercial-Gazette:

Mr. Ed. Harvey, one of the best of our local scenic artists, has just completed a drop curtain, which surpasses in beauty any similar painting exhibited here in many seasons. The canvas was uplifted and displayed to a few admiring friends at the Grand Opera House, this distinguished artist, as Matt Morgan was most flattering. It is what is technically known as a "drapery curtain," the center piece being a beautiful bit of white satin richly ornamented with gold embroidery.

The curtains are of Moorish design, in keeping with the general subject, which is oriental. Heavy folds of maroon velvet gracefully caught up by gold cords, magnificently caught up by gold cords, magnificently draped and down to a tiled flooring profusely spread with bright colored Turkish rug. It is a picture of great beauty and elegance of finish with similar painting exhibited here in many seasons. The canvas was uplifted and displayed to a few admiring friends at the Grand Opera House, this distinguished artist, as Matt Morgan was most flattering. It is what is technically known as a "drapery curtain," the center piece being a beautiful bit of white satin richly ornamented with gold embroidery.

The Committee on this was directed to advertise for proposals to light the city by gas, electricity, or otherwise.

It was ordered that the Board of Equalization consist of five members as follows: C. Rudy, First ward; J. M. Stuckey, Second ward; E. W. Fitzgerald, Third ward; B. A. Wallingford, Fourth ward; John Blanchard, Fifth ward.

A. Davis, G. W. Geisel and William Eudy. The plans and specifications were furnished by Mr. Oscar Cobb, of Chicago, one of the best theatrical architects of the country, who has given the work his personal supervision and who has assured the building committee that it is one of the most complete and convenient structures he has ever designed. The building will be formally opened as stated on Tuesday evening, and it is hardly necessary to say that our citizens will show their appreciation of the enterprise of the Washington Fire Company by filling the house to its utmost capacity.

Council Proceedings.

The board met at the usual hour on Thursday evening with Dr. Phister in the chair and all members present except Messer Yancy and Wallingford.

The monthly report of the city officers were presented as follows:

Dues assessed by Marshal.....$77.76

Fines collected by Marshal.....$77.75

Net wharfe.....$50.75

The following claims were presented and allowed:

J. Lloyd, merchant.....$14.75

L. Lowry, merchant.....$2.50

D. L. Gould, merchant.....$2.50

W. H. Wallingford, merchant.....$1.50

Paul Hordern, merchant.....$1.00

J. Wallingford, work.....$1.00

A. W. Alexander, fencing.....$2.25

J. Redmond, leading physicians.....$1.50

W. Moran, leading physicians.....$1.50

Moran & O'Brien, work.....$6.20

E. Langford, work.....$6.20

J. Calvert, work.....$6.50

J. H. Dudson, one man.....$7.75

G. Morton, stone.....$2.00

J. B. Wallingford, rock.....$1.00

John Owen, Parker & Co., coal.....$1.00

W. Worland, coal.....$1.00

John Company.....$22.88

Mr. Clegg, salary.....$6.00

Mr. Clegg, salary.....$6.00

H. H. Hedges & Co., merchant.....$6.50

Mr. Kronos, boarding.....$10.00

T. J. Green, advertising.....$10.50

Edgar, Rudy & Co., Kindling.....$2.00

King & Childs, merchant.....$1.00

John Chouin, merchant.....$1.00

Total.....$100.02

The contract to do the city advertising was awarded to T. M. Green.

J. K. Lloyd presented his bond and qualified as Assessor.

The Committee on this was directed to advertise for proposals to light the city by gas, electricity, or otherwise.

It was ordered that the Board of Equalization consist of five members as follows:

C. Rudy, First ward; J. M. Stuckey, Second ward; E. W. Fitzgerald, Third ward; B. A. Wallingford, Fourth ward; John Blanchard, Fifth ward.

COUNTY POINTS.

Tolboro.

Two deaths in our little town on the 27th ult.

One sickness in this vicinity now lianer never before known in any time previous to this.

We are pleased to state that the seven who were sick last winter are now all well again, but regret to state that the condition of Mrs. Naylor is no better.

It is with a sad heart that we hear of the death of Mrs. Moore's description of the Vale of Cashmere.

She has not heard of the Vale of Cashmere. With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

As the artist has done in the Vale of Cashmere.

With its roses the brightest that earth ever bore.

With its temples and grottoes and fountains full of life.

With its love-lit eyes that hang over the waves.

On the first sunset when warm on the lake it's splendor at parting a summer eve throws.

Like a full fall of blushes when lingering to take.

At last look at the mirror at night are she.

The painting is as lovely as the rhyme of Moore.

The waters of the lake as tranquilly meet as the dreamer who has woven them with the gay golden threads of a robe as bright as the breath of the loins dower to the faded wands.

The plate is too small to be called grand, but because the artist has chosen a subject which is more appropriate than any other.

MYSTERY OF THE WOODS

UNEXPECTED SOLUTION OF A TWENTY-YEAR-OLD ROMANCE.

A Man Who Believed Himself a Murderer and Whom Friends Believed the Victim
A Woman Was at the Bottom of It—A Strange Story Explained.

New York, Feb. 6.—Captain C. T. Cutler, of Clermont Mills, Pa., purchased a ticket for Friday at a railroad ticket office in this city, on Wednesday.

"This ticket," said he, "is for a man who for twenty years has believed himself to be a murderer fleeing from justice, and whose friends, on the other hand, have for twenty years thought he was the victim, the man whom he himself believed he had murdered. His name is Alexander Baer, and it was only a few weeks ago that he found out he was not a murderer."

Baer worked for me in 1863. He was paying attention to a girl named Cameron, and I think that is the reason he left the service. He was a servant at the lumberman's boarding house. In the fall of that year a good-looking young Scotchman named Henry Cameron came to my mills to work. He belonged somewhere in Scotland, coming to New York to seek his fortune with a Highland girl, and the result was that the two became bitter enemies. They worked in the same logging camp.

"One day in the winter of 1863, Cameron came to the settlement with a blow gun, and I think the bullet he had got into a quarrel over the Hathaway girl, and he came to blows. Baer had knocked him senseless with a club, and when he was unable to get away, he took him to the cabin of the lumberman, and was not seen again or at any of the camps. As Baer had nearly $200 due him from our company, and had left a $10 in his trunk at the boarding house, his disappearance had an air of mystery about it, and the lumberman, who was a Scotchman, believed that in the fight between him and Cameron the Scotchman had killed his rival, and, fearful of the consequences, had secreted his body. Cameron, however, was then a fugitive, and forced to run for his life, and investigation at the altar, and all the expenses of a search for the whereabouts of the missing lumberman. He employed an officer to follow every possible clue he could find that might lead to the solution of the mystery, but nothing could be learned.

When the ice broke up, in the spring some boys who were fishing for suckers in the north branch of the river, were attracted by a peculiar looking object that came along with some weeds. They dredged it out with their pails. On dredging it up they saw that it was the half-clad body of a man. They hurried to the lumber camp and told the men at work there what they had found. The men at work sent word from the camp to the head of the dead man, and a recognition of the features was impossible. There were remnants of a plaid coat, or jacket, on the body. Alexander Baer was the only one in the region who had worn such a coat. The body was made by the hands of a greenhand boy, who was unskilled, at which the remains were declared to be those of the missing lumberman. The finding of the dead body aroused new suspicion of the fact that he had been killed by Cameron. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the man had come to his death in a manner unknown.

"Baer's friends demanded the arrest of Cameron. A warrant was issued, and Cameron ran away. Even so far as the law would permit, he fled. He was pursued and captured, but while he was being taken to the county seat he escaped from the officers and was never recaptured. It was believed that he had joined the army, and had a career in the Sixty-seventh Pennsylvania regiment sent home the news in 1865 that he had seen the dead body of Cameron among those who had died in Libby prison. At all events, nothing was ever heard of the alleged murderer, and the people connected with the case gradually forgot it.

"A few days ago a stranger appeared at the Clarion mills and asked for me. To my great surprise no told me he was the missing Alexander Baer, and he had been living in America for a dozen years. He told me he was a singular sort. When he had known Cameron well enough to try to revive him, he had been compelled to leave the country, and, without a thought of anything else, fled from the place to escape the consequences of the crime. He met on the edge of the camp a man named Perry, who was in the habit of making occasional visits to the lumber regions for the purpose of buying up waste and rags of all kinds. The man was very drunk. Knowing that if he was discovered he would be sent to prison, he fled from his detection. Baer traded off to Perry for a coat off coat he was wearing. Perry had told Baer that he was going to cross the ice at the eddy above, on his way to Cratty's mill. He had not gone far when he fell through the ice into an air hole and was drowned, and his body, with the remnants of Baer's plaid coat on, was the one the boys found the next spring.

The boy went to Pittsburgh, where he enlisted in the army under an assumed name. After the war he went to California and other western states, never having heard a word from the mills or lumber camp he left until the summer of last year, when he came to Denver, a man named Philip Craig, who was working for me at the time of the supposed murder. They recognized one another, and Craig told Baer the story of the affair, giving him full information. Baer then worked his way gradually east, to revisit the old scene and set things right. The Hathaway girl, over whom the two quarreled, was married in 1867, and died last year. Her son, a strapping young fellow, seven years old, is now a citizen of the middle west. He worked a day in the old place, but concluded he preferred to go back west, and he's going on this ticket."

Cruelties to Convicts.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 6.—Some time since a convicts' camp in Georgia was broken up by order of the governor, the last seeing placed an insatiable superintendent in charge, and the convicts were brought to the Chattahoochee camp, near here. The new arrivals have been very ill-treated, and some of them have died. On Tuesday it was discovered that several of the convicts had organized for an outbreak. They intended to overpower or kill the guards, and escape. Prompt measures were taken. All the convicts to be kept in the country, in the prison itself. The single-soldiers were severely flogged by the whipping bosses, and the dogs will be repeated daily until they will think no more of mutiny.

R. Wurlitzer & Bro.

115 Main St., Cincinnati, O.

PIANOS!

HENRY F. MILLER, Hardman,
Gabler, R. Wurlitzer & Bro.

ORGANS!

Peloubet & Co., and Others.

Every instrument warranted. Low prices and best terms.

C. B. Chamberlain, Agt.,
77 East Second St., Maysville.

PIANO MANUFACTORY.

F. L. TRAYSER,
Manufacturer and Dealer in Pianos.

PIANOS & ORGANS,

ALL INSTRUMENTS WARRANTED!

PIANOS TUNED AND REPAIRED

Front Street, Maysville.

G. M. WILLIAMS,
DENTIST.

Fine work in all the departments of dentistry. Office and residence White Block, corner Third and Lincoln Streets, etc. (april 27)

D. K. W. MOORE,
DENTIST.

Office: Second Street, Maysville, Ky.

PAUL D. ANDERSON,
DENTIST.

No. 21 Market St., neare opp. Central Hotel.
Office open at all hours. MAYSVILLE, KY.
May 1819 d.

D. K. SMITH & WARDLE, DENTISTS.

Nitro oxide, or laughing gas, used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office on Court Street. apidly

J. D. DEWITT C. FRANKLIN,
Dentist.

Office: Second Street, next door to Bank of Mayville.

T. HOM. R. PRINTER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
And Examiner for Mason County

Prompt attention given to collections. Office on Court Street, Maysville, Ky. my301y

C. J. CANNON,
PHOTOGRAPHER.

Second street, next door to Dr. Martin's

Opposite

S. J. DAUGHERTY'S

Marble, Granite and Freestone Yard

Monumental and Building Workman. Mon.
ment, 7x10, 8x12, 10x12, 12x14, 14x16
Post and Hearth Stones on hand. No. 7 west Second street, Mayville. (april 1)

L. W. GALEBRAITH,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.

OFFICE: Third Street, Near Court House.

Formerly occupied by Coons & Salles.

Nov. 23m MAYSVILLE, KY.

LAW CARD.

JAMES L. SALLER, Notary Public.

CLARENCE L. SALLER, Expert Mason Co.

SALLER & SALLER,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

Insurance and Real Estate Agents, Mayville, Ky.

S. SMALL & DREENEI,

TAILORS.

Men's and boys' Clothing made to order in the latest style of all reasonable price. All kinds of tailoring and mending.

Second story of the Zoch building

Market Street, Mayville.

MISS ANNA FRAZER, NOVELTY STORE.

—Dealer in—

DRY GOODS and NOTIONS.

I have always on hand a full supply of School Books, and have just received a large assortment of new military goods.

M. ONE DABBO & BO.,

GOOD INTENT

Livery and Sale Stable.

A full line of all kinds of vehicles on hand and equipment. Horses, Mares, Ponies, Carts,

etc. We have the largest and best appointed Livery Stable in the West.

Prices moderate, and equal to any in the country.

The singulaires were severely

flogged by the whipping bosses, and the dogs

will be repeated daily until they will think no more of mutiny.

GEO. S. ROSSER.

M. J. McCARTHY.

Publishers of the

DAILY and WEEKLY

BULLETIN.

THE DAILY BULLETIN will contain each day a record of the movements of the great political parties, paying particular attention to political meetings in the County and City. It will also give a full account of the trials of the day, and will strive to keep its readers posted on all matters of general interest, giving the news in a condensed form, but the most important matters will be treated at length. As a medium for LOCAL NEWS it is unequalled, being the best newspaper in the State. It is a weekly publication, and contains a corps of active and trustworthy correspondents, who promptly furnish an accurate account of all occurrences of interest in their respective localities. THE MARKET REPORTS, which are furnished expressly for the BULLETIN, will give the latest information that may be looked upon as reliable.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

DAILY, per year, $5.00; WEEKLY, per year, $3.00.

Repairing promptly done by

H. M. WILLIAMS.

—Dealer in—

GROCERIES,

CIGARS and TOBACCOES,

Teas, Queencware, Glass-ware, and Nations

Stuffed-creams, paid for by Country Produce

Cutter, Fourth and Fifth streets.

CRAWFORD HOUSE,

Cor. Sixth and Walnut Sts.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

C. S. MINER & BRO.,

ESTABLISHED 1859—DEALERS IN—

BOOTS,

SHOES,

Leather and Findings

MAYSVILLE, KY.

W. W. McIlvain.

R. G. Humphreys.

McILVAINE & HUMPHREYS,

(Successors to MYALL & RILEY.)

Attention, Farmers! For the next few days we will offer a splendid line of HAY RAKES at greatly reduced prices. McElroy, Milburn, Webster and Mitchell

WAGONS!

We still have on hand a few Planet Junior TOBACCO CULTIVATORS. Also a full and complete stock of all kinds of

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS—

—AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS—

and repairs always on hand. Don't fail to give us a call at No. 7, West Second Street, Mayville & Riley's old stand, Maysville, Ky.

O. & B.

Guns,

Pistols,

Rifles,

Breech-loading, (single and double) muzzle-loading, (single and double) SHOT GUNS and

RIFLES. Having made arrangements with the Colt Fire Arms Company for the sale of their breech-loading guns, ten and twelve bore, we are enabled to offer them at the very lowest prices sold East or West. We have in store a nice stock of twelve bore

"twist" and "annulated" barrels. Ten-bore guns over $100 and twelve-bore guns over

$150 but will be furnished to order on short notice; also any finish desired. We also handle the celebrated PIPER PATENT GUNS,

the "DANA" and others. A large stock of these prominent makes of breech loaders.

Wards will furnish Hunting Knives, Hat implements, Shears, Belts, Bags, &c. Agents

for Du Pont's gunpowder

100,000 tickets at $5.00 each. Fractions, in fills, in proportion.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 CAPITAL PRIZE.....$25.00

1 do 25.00

2 PRIZES OF $10.00..... 10.00

5 do 10.00

10 do 5.00

20 do 2.50

30 do 1.00

50 do 50

1000 do 25.00

APPROXIMATE PRICES.

Approximation of Prizes.....$25.00

do 25.00

do 25.00